"I wouldn't present this program any place else in the world. Only in Carmel will people accept such happy music as a Christmas program."

The speaker is a bright, bubbling lover of bright, bubbling music, Haymo Taeuber, conductor both of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra and the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society.

The program to which he refers is the "Theresa Mass" to be presented in the Basilica of the Carmel Mission on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 13 and 14 at 8 p.m.

Haydn's 'Theresa Mass' is unique offering on MP Choral Society Christmas Concert

"I think that some of the traditional masses and Christmas carols are beginning to sound like something piped into supermarkets."

"I chose the program we are presenting because it is not only appropriate to the season, but because it is happy music as well."

The program consists of three or four familiar carols, two 16th Century Spanish carols and two German carols of the same era.

Taeuber has selected the Corelli "Concerto Grosso," written by Corelli especially for children at Christmas time, and the first part of the program will conclude with this "Fatto Per La Notte di Natale" for two solo violins, a solo cello and string orchestra.

"The 'Theresa Mass' is the second part of the program.

"Haydn's masses are mostly happy masses, but the 'Theresa' has a special quality, a gay spirit that makes it particularly appropriate for Christmas," Taeuber says.

"Our choir has achieved a balance it has lacked. We now have 90 voices with the correct balance of tenors and basses, sopranos and altos, a most difficult thing to accomplish.

"The choir will be supported by an orchestra of 23 pieces."

For the first time, the Choral Society will have to charge for the tickets to the performances.

Members of the orchestra who belong to the local union may volunteer their services, but when outsiders are used, union rules state that they must be paid. The orchestra at present has members from as far as Watsonville, so a charge of $2.50 per ticket is being made to offset this deficit.

Box 4241
Carmel-by-the-Sea, California 93921

Dear Mr. Ross:

You will be interested to know that you have been awarded an Award of Merit* by the American Association for State and Local History at its annual meeting in St. Paul, Minnesota late in August. This letter is to alert you about the award and to prepare you for the official, national public announcement of this good news on December 1, 1969. We hope that you will keep this knowledge private until the national press release from AASLH headquarters on December 1. At the same time we want to give you time to coordinate local publicity to make appropriate use of the news that this national honor is coming to you for a job well done in the field of state and local history.

It is my hope to have printed, properly inscribed certificates available to you on or about December 1. These will be sent to the Regional Chairmen (see enclosed Awards brochure for names and addresses) who, in turn, will distribute the certificates to state chairmen. If you have any questions or special requests about this procedure, please contact the appropriate regional chairman.

Yours sincerely,

American Association for State and Local History ANNUAL AWARDS OF MERIT

Each year the American Association for State and Local History studies and evaluates the outstanding work that has been done in the field of state and local history. With the assistance of state and regional committees we search out projects of superior achievement — of quality and distinction. We note carefully new and promising ideas and innovations. We examine the programs of historical societies, historic preservation groups, history museums, and junior historical societies. We review the scholarly and popularly written books on local, state and regional history. We scrutinize the performance of professional and amateur historians — seeking to learn who among them has achieved excellence in their work.

The American Association gives an Award of Merit to those persons, groups or organizations who have contributed significantly to the study of local history, or who have launched an innovation for disseminating local history, or whose work has led to a better understanding of our national heritage at the local level.

In conferring these awards, the Association focuses national attention on the excellent work persons and organizations are accomplishing. In so doing, we hope that we shall inspire others to give that extra bit of effort to their own project. By singling out the superior and the unusual, the Association helps to establish high standards for all those who populate our ever-growing ranks.

Eligibility

Any person, group or organization whether publicly or privately financed, is eligible for these awards. Included are: state or provincial historical societies and agencies; regional, county and local historical societies; specialized societies in such related fields as genealogy, folklore, archaeology, business history, railroad history, postal history; junior historical societies and other groups of young people engaged in local historical activities; serious history books or biographies and popular histories that make a significant contribution to local history; individuals and organizations contributing most significantly to the understanding and development of local history or historical programs, such as business firms, labor unions, patriotic societies, newspapers, privately owned restorations, museums, foundations.

Governing Criteria

No nomination should be made except in the case of unusually meritorious work. The mere fulfillment of routine functions (in the case of a historical society, for instance) is not justification for an award, unless such fulfillment involves a radical change in policy for that society.

Action over and above the ordinary call of duty is the usual prerequisite for an award. A newspaper, for instance, running a "Twenty-five Years Ago Today" column

Report From RLS

By George Wing

Alumni Field, Stevensons new all-weather track and soccer stadium was finally completed on Nov. 25. Incorporated in the design by Neill Engineers of Carmel are some features unique to RLS.

The Alumni Field track is a quarter mile oval — divided into 6 lanes each 42 inches wide. All the runways are coated with a ½ inch thick surfacing called Grastex, a highly rubberized plastic.

This Grastex surface, layed by the Chevron Asphalt Division, is unique to RLS among independent schools.

Several advantages are offered by the Grastex track. For instance, the painted lane dividers are permanent and the synthetic surface is trod on only by ¼ inch spiked or tennis shoes, eliminating costly track maintenance.

Also, Grastex is an all-weather surface; rain will no longer be a factor to contend with during track season.

The infield, site of future soccer games, is covered by pre-grown grass.

Eight meets are scheduled for the 1970 season on the Alumni Field track.

Not open to the public, permission to use Alumni Field can be obtained through Mr. Wallace Goodwin, RLS Director of Athletics.

Carmel, city of traditions, will celebrate traditional tree lighting, caroling

Carmel is surely a city of tradition.

Another annual tradition takes place on Monday, Dec. 15, when the Christmas lights go on with elaborate ceremonies at 6:30 p.m. at the Carmel Plaza across from Devendorf Park.

Patti Bell, president of the Carmel Youth Center, which is in charge of the coordination of the event, a traditional task, will be mistress of ceremonies.

Robert Forbes, who traditionally is the adult coordinator for the event, will this year be adult coordinator for the tree lighting.

A traditional musical program will begin at 6:30 under the direction of Henry Avila of Carmel High School. Music will be performed by the high school Brass Choir.

Traditionally the may flips the switch that turns on the lights, so Mayor Barney Laiolo will do the honors again this year.

Tree lighting time has become the traditional time for the Carmel Business Association to present the prizes to the winning shop windows in the city, so the three winners will receive their prizes as soon as the lights go on.

In this day of electronics, all the sound emanating from Carmel Plaza must be amplified, so the traditional sound system donater, Fritz Haas of Fritz's TV Repair Service, will install his equipment so that everybody can hear what is being said and sung.

Once again, all this tradition comes about on Monday, Dec. 15, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at Carmel Plaza, and it's a tradition for just about everybody in the city to be there.

McMenamin will not run again

The "Grand Old Man" of Monterey County politics will not run again.

Emmet G. McMenamin, County Registrar of Voters, County Clerk and County Recorder told the Pine Cone that he will not run again for office.

"I want to do a few of the things I've always wanted to do while I still have my health," he said.

McMenamin, who is an alert, sparkling 86 years old, came to Monterey County in 1913. He was mayor of the City of Monterey for six years, and has been County Clerk for the past 27.

He will serve in his present job until the end of his elected term in January, 1971.

His assistant, Sal J. Nicita of Carmel has announced that he will seek the vacated position. Richard Bragg of Pebble Beach has previously indicated that he will run for the job.

Hospital blood bank plan

The Community Hospital of the Monterey Peninsula is in constant need of blood, and donors may contribute by calling the hospital laboratory, 624-5311, and making an appointment.

Blood is drawn Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to noon and 4 to 6 p.m. at the hospital laboratory.

The hospital is supplied with blood through the American Red Cross program and Bloodplan, an insurance program of the Foundation of Medical Care at Monterey County.

Persons may replace blood at Community Hospital for persons needing it anywhere in the country. Those wishing to replace blood under the Red Cross program may do it at the hospital.

Dorothy Bowman named new Sunset manager, assumes duties January 1

By GUNNAR NORBERG

Though it was well after midnight, and last week's meeting which had begun early Wednesday evening was drawing to a weary close, members of the Carmel City Council came out smiling at the end of a prolonged executive session to convey to the successful applicant for the vacant Sunset Center managership, that she had been named to the position.

The successful applicant: Mrs. Dorothy Bowman, who expressed her delight at being chosen. She said it had been her dream, ever since taking her first vacation in Carmel back in 1947, to some day call Carmel home.

She will leave her present job (cultural arts director, McGroarty Arts Center, City of Los Angeles) to begin work in Carmel on Jan. 1.

Born in South Dakota, brought up in Kansas, Mrs. Bowman prepared for her vocation in Kansas City and Los Angeles.

She studied at both Kansas City Art Institute and San Fernando City College.

Married to an artist, Harold Lee Bowman, and the mother of two children — Tina, a college freshman, and Randy, a high school junior — Mrs. Bowman considers Carmel a very special place with traditions she will seek to forward.

Before going into executive session to choose a new Sunset manager, the City Council was something less than "all smiles" about a proposal by the Roscelli Corporation to have the City authorize an increase from $1.75 to $2.25 a month for the usual once-a-week, one-can service, yet in two cities — Pacific Grove and Monterey — the basic residential pick-up rate is less than Carmel's — $1.55 in Pacific Grove and $1.65 in Monterey. Two other cities — Seaside and Salinas — allow their garbage franchise firms to charge $1.75, but — again — two-can rather than one-can service is provided.

Two-can service means garbage men will empty not just the one garbage can a week inside a yard but also another can, at the curb, containing garden rubbish.

Through the years, people in Carmel have often felt beset, as they are today, by innumerable operators of rubbish trucks from other towns who charge various — but usually high prices to pick up the garden rubbish which cannot be contained in the regular once-a-week, one-can garbage service.

Though the Council finally approved the new and higher garbage rate — to become effective Jan. 1. — it left for negotiation between the City and Roscelli Corporation other matters to be included in a new garbage contract. In view of this, it would be possible for the City to include in such negotiation the matter of a possible weekly garden-rubbish pick-up service by the Roscelli Corporation, to go along with the regular garbage service.

Also left for negotiation was the matter of the annual franchise payment to be made by the Roscelli Corporation to the City, which at present is a modest $2,500 year. In other cities, the franchise fee is a percentage of the garbage franchises' collections — 5% in Monterey, 10% in Seaside, and 12% in Salinas.

In another issue in which members of the Council found themselves less than pleased, it rapped Street Superintendent William Askew lightly on the knuckles for having hired a new streetman at more than the usual starting pay, rather than promoting a present streetman from a lower to a higher rate of pay, and then employing a new man at bottom-rung pay. After expressing its disapproval of Askew's action — by a 4-to-1 vote with only Councilman Frank Falge dissenting — the Council then temporarily allowed the new streetman to be paid, until the end of the year, at the rate of pay which it had just rejected. Meanwhile Councilman Falge (who's street commissioner) and Askew are to prepare a report on the matter in time for the Council's regular January meeting. (The new streetman is Donald J. Martin).

In other action, the Council authorized a street improvement project on Santa Lucia between Dolores and Rio Road, after it was satisfied that no violence would be done to present attractive characteristics of that meandering section of street. It also decided to postpone action on a possible widening of a portion of 13th street between Dolores and Lincoln, when it found property owners in the block had not received written notification of the proposed action.

The Council also approved a report made by its lands and improvements committee (Councilmen Falge and Whittlesey) which proposed that the City take a new initiative leading to possible acquisition of wooded canyon tracts to preserve them in their natural state.

Two truck matters received attention. In one the Council ordered the posting of the City's truck rules at each roadway entrance to Carmel. In another, it authorized truck loading zones on San Carlos street between Ocean and 7th.

Hidden Valley Music Seminar in 'Conciertos nen Carmel'

The Hidden Valley Music Seminars' annual "Conciertos nen Carmel," to be presented on Sunday, Dec. 28 in the All Saints Church in Carmel, holds some exciting and rare treats for the peninsula's residents and visitors.

The concerts will present the American premiere performance of a powerful and moving "Magnificat" by Monteverdi and a performance of Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 3 played and conducted by Dr. Michael Zearott.

Over 100 of the music seminars alumni, coming throughout the United States, will gather at the La Playa Hotel on Dec. 26 for three days of reminiscing, rehearsing, and performing.

The young people will represent nearly 25 conservatories, universities, and colleges in this country. Their common bond is serious music and their training at the music seminars.

John S. Waddell, former conductor of the Pasadena Symphony Chorale and founding conductor of the Los Angeles All City Chorale, will lead the vocalists in the preparation and performance of the American Premiere of Monteverdi's "Magnificat, a sei voci."

This exciting work of the Italian Renaissance composer will be performed from special transcriptions of the original manuscripts which are housed in the British National Museum. The transcriptions were made by the Carmelite Priory in Kensington, England, and sent to the Hidden Valley Music

Seminars especially for this performance.

Taking a short leave from his post as Assistant Conductor of the National Orchestra of Monte Carlo, Dr. Michael Zearott will fly to the peninsula to direct the reunion orchestra. Zearott will fill the dual role of pianist and conductor in Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 3.

Tickets for "Conciertos nen Carmel", 2:15 p.m. and 8:15 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 28, are available through the Hidden Valley Music Seminar offices, by writing P.O. Box 5124, Carmel, or by telephoning 624-6737.

Talk about the 'TV generation'

At their Thursday meeting last week, the Carmel Kiwanis welcomed as their guest Dr. Robert Faul, president of MPC. Dr. Faul deals with students young and old including many former servicemen as well as retired people.

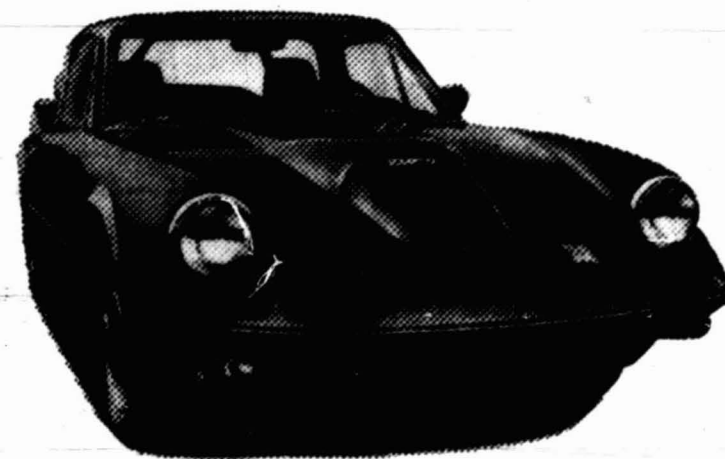

Dr. Faul outlined the development of today's television educated generation. He explained that they average about four hours daily watching kids shows and news programs which bring world problems into the living room.

He pointed out that the parents of these children had their own lives disrupted by WWII and the Korean War. Many mothers worked during the war years and are still working outside the home. Schools were overcrowded and many postwar students attended double sessions.

After the ceremony, a reception and supper followed at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach.

Highlands wedding

The Highlands Inn wedding chapel was the setting for the Nov. 14 marriage of Sandra Rachel Patton of Carmel and Sgt. F. Daniel Hill of Irving, Texas. Rev. J. Wendel Clutz performed the 4 p.m. ceremony.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence George Patton, formerly of Orinda and now residing in Carmel. Sandra graduated from Miramonte High School, Orinda and MPC.

Daniel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jack Hill of Irving, Texas. He is serving with the U.S. Marine Corps at Oak Knoll Hospital after a tour of duty in Vietnam.

The bride wore a Victorian gown of white silk organza trimmed with Venise lace and pink satin ribbon with a matching chapel train.

A band of fresh flowers held her elbow length illusion veil, and she carried

Navy wives plan to meet

The regular meeting of the Naval Postgraduate School Staff Wives Club will be held on Dec. 11, 1969 beginning with champagne punch and French pastry at noon.

The meeting will be held in La Novia Room of the Commissioned Officers and Faculty Club.

A program will begin at 12:30 and will consist of a duo piano team with Jo Crittenden, Frances Polk, Kay Swim and Margaret C. Aitkenhead.

The Christmas party will include a collection of gifts and money for a needy family.

Hosts for the event will be the Naval Auxiliary Landing Field and the Logistics Directorate.

Christmas tips

Give holiday visitors a special greeting by displaying this year's Christmas cards as a framed decoration in the foyer, the Picture and Frame Institute suggests. Before the cards start arriving cut a piece of cardboard to fill a large picture frame. Cover this cardboard with red or green cloth; put the cardboard into the frame, and hang your soon-to-be masterpiece in the entryway. As Christmas cards arrive, simply pin them to the cloth backing.

a Victorian nosegay of pink rosebuds, carnations and marguerites.

Attendants were Kelly Murphy of Newport Beach, a cousin of the bride; Mrs. Jeffrey Patton of Chico, her sister-in-law; Kimberly Dakis of Orinda and Kristin Dakis, flower girl.

The attendants wore pink silk dresses with matching Dior hair bows, and each carried a single long-stem pink rosebud.

Best man was Lance Cpl. Charles Ford of San Jose. Gregory and Buck Patton, brothers of the bride and James Heald of Oakland, a cousin of the bride served as ushers.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The newlyweds honeymooned at Lake Tahoe and plan to enter college after Sgt. Hill's discharge from the service.

The 20-year-old third-year student will begin his full-year, full-time assignment at the start of Spring quarter 1970.

As CM, Erlich will be chief administrator of policies made by Community Council, a faculty-student council elected to set standards in the non-academic areas of life at the college of liberal arts and sciences.

Erlich is currently studying on campus and serving as a preceptorial fellow, a post in which he is assisting the Dean of the Faculty in advising a group of freshman students.

Housewives cautioned on talcum powder hazard

When toddlers are not unrolling toilet paper or knocking over vases, they are quite frequently sprinkling talcum powder over themselves and everything else.

This is not only messy but exceedingly dangerous, warns the British Medical Journal. If the toddler should spill the container over his face and inhale a quantity of the powder, he could suffocate. Of five reported cases involving one to two year old, three died within 20 hours.

Istvan Nadas sparkles in brilliant piano performance for Music Teachers Assn.

by RACHEL MORTON
Pine Cone
Music Critic

The All Saints' Parish Hall was packed to the doors Saturday night when the Monterey County Branch of the Music Teachers Association of California presented Istvan Nadas, pianist, in works of J.S. Bach.

Considering the 32 consecutive seasons of Bach given in Carmel every July for 10 days, and then this program entirely devoted to Bach on Saturday, I am of the opinion that Carmelites are Bach-addicts!

Very fortunately a gifted musician, thoroughly cognizant of his Bach, was the artist of the evening.

Istvan Nadas, born in Hungary, was a pupil of Bartok and Kodaly. He was heard last summer in the Bach Festival playing the Mozart Concerto in G Major and he conducted a session at Monterey Peninsula College last summer.

Programmed in the first half of the concert was the Partita No. 6 in E. Minor which included seven numbers - Toccata, Allemande, Corrente, Air, Sarabande, Tempo di Gavotta and Gigue.

From the first statement of the lovely theme, clearly and cleanly defined, Nadas held his audience in rapt attention which never abated, because throughout he evoked beautiful music from the keyboard. In the quiet moods there was delicacy of touch, but with deep penetration nonetheless.

In the fast music there was surety and deftness in finger technique and the climaxes were powerfully and brilliantly achieved.

The second half of the program was a veritable tour de force. It was announced as "Keyboard Practice consisting of an Air with Thirty Variations Prepared for the Enjoyment of Music Lovers." (The Goldberg Variations).

The Variations were greatly contrasted and Nadas brought out the significance of each. With loving care he cajoled limpid tone into being. He could be playful in fast rhythm, with never a blurred note.

However delicate his tone, warm vitality shone through and in the strong passages he gave a clarion ring. The "cross-hand" Variation showed terrific technical skill.

One Variation was fiery with keyboard brilliance, while another in a minor key was full of finger filigree, the base chasing the treble as the notes twinkled under his agile fingers. All was summed up in an onslaught of powerful music - fugue-like in nature.

Istvan Nadas is a great artist who almost made a Bach-addict of me. Almost!

Grace Coolidge was the first "First Lady" baseball fan, listening to games broadcast over the radio.

scheduled for Friday, Dec. 19 at the Circle Theatre, Carmel.

The action of "Light Up The Sky" revolves around a try-out of a new play in Boston and its attendant tribulations. It is a story of show people who love each other, get into trouble, detest each other, and then find out they need each other.

Set in a plush suite in the Hotel Ritz, "Light Up The Sky" traces the emotional gyrations of the raucous star, the wise-cracking producer, a whining director, an idealistic young playwright, and a handful of spiteful hangers-on.

All of them are sure they have discovered a genius in the unknown author, until rudely disillusioned when the audience walks out on them at the premiere, they slink back to the hotel to deride each other and insult the playwright.

After the rave notices have appeared, they fall into each others arms with undying devotion.

"Light Up The Sky" contains some of the sharpest and wittiest dialogue ever heard in the theatre. Moss Hart has drawn from his many years experience in the Broadway theatre to write this racy salute to show-business.

Hart is the celebrated co-author, with George Kaufman, of such well remembered comedy successes as "You Can't Take It With You," "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and "George Washington Slept Here."

Directing this tremendously funny prank is Zelma Weinfield, associate director at the Circle Theatre. Assisting Mrs. Weinfield as stage-manager is Miss Tony Hyland.

Studio will present 'Cactus Flower' as holiday fare

The international comedy success "Cactus Flower" opens at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel on Friday, Dec. 19,

Town House program

The Carmel Foundation will present a special Holiday musical program on Wednesday, Dec. 17, at Town House. Children from public schools, ranging in age from seven through the teens will participate in three program areas.

Robert Short, 7-year old pianist, one of Wade Parks pupils, will begin the Christmas program with a piano selection of Christmas carols. The second section of the program is given by a group of 2nd and 3rd grade children from the River School, Carmel, who will sing under the direction of Gene Perrine.

The program will be followed by a party with Santa Claus giving out candy canes and with the usual Christmas fun. The festivities will begin at 2:30 p.m.

with an augmented holiday playing schedule. Adapted by Abe Burrows from a French farce that became a Paris hit, "Cactus Flower" ran three full years on Broadway and also did well in London.

The plot concerns a playboy dentist named Julian who avoids marriage by telling his girl friends he already has a wife and children. This invention backfires when he has to produce a wife to support his story and in desperation prevails upon his starched-uniform nurse, Stephanie, to act the masquerade.

As one complication leads to another, he drafts his friend Harvey to step into the role of alleged lover of the supposed wife and quickly regrets it as he begins to view the blossoming Stephanie in a nonprofessional light.

Under the direction of Bill Asp and with settings and lighting by Bob Evans Jr., "Cactus Flower" will run at the Studio nightly from Dec. 19 through the end of the month, except for Dec. 24 and 25.

"Simply Delicious Fare"

Between Thanksgiving and Christmas there comes a time of surfeit. This is when we require simple food which does not necessitate dull dishes. The budget, plus much shopping and correspondence, calls for a minimum of preparation.

We also need a switch from holiday fare so we can continue on Christmas Eve and through New Years with more richly traditional creations.

To us, men cook with less complication and anxiety than most women. We began by asking Jerry Williamson, who owns The Sandpiper in Carmel, what his favorite easy-to-do dishes are. Having been raised in the restaurant business, he knew about cooking fundamentals before he attempted his own type of cuisine.

"Simplicity is the keynote with availability of condiments, plus the basic ingredients on hand. An uncluttered kitchen certainly helps, especially when everyone gathers around the range to offer suggestions," Jerry told us.

Here is Jerry's Carmel-inspired delicious food, simply executed. This do-it-yourself chef has lived in Carmel for 25 years and does not yearn to be a pseudo gourmet but rather an unpretentious cook.

One of Jerry's Suppers
Tung-kua-t' and
(Winter Melon Soup)

Prepare Ahead: In a small bowl, cover 4 dried Chinese imported mushrooms, 1-1½ inches in diameter, with ½ cup warm water and soak for 30 min. Discard water. Cut away stems and slice caps into quarters. Peel 1 lb. winter melon (found at the Sunset Oriental Grocery in Monterey). Discard seeds and fibres. Cut into ¼ inch slices, then into 1 inch squares.

Have mushrooms, melon ready before you start combining 3 cups fresh or canned chicken stock in a 2 to 3 qt. heavy saucepan with the melon and mushrooms. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat to low, half cover the pan and simmer for 15 min. To serve, ladle soup into a tureen or serving bowl and stir in 16 small cooked smoked ham squares. Serve steaming into Chinese bowls minus handles but with matching porcelain spoons if possible. Serves 4.

Easy Meat Loaf and Eggplant

Two lbs. ground chuck; 1 egg; 1 cup milk; 1 T. creamed horseradish; 4 T. ketchup; 1 minced onion; 1 cup crushed dry cereal; 1 t. granulated sugar; 1 t. salt; shake of pepper. Combine.

Lay a strip of bacon on top of loaf, molded into a Pyrex meat loaf pan. Bake, uncovered, at 375 F. for one hour or at 350 F. for 1½ hours. Serve hot with

Baked Quick Eggplant

Slice unpeeled eggplant into ½ inch slices. There should be two slices per person, maybe more, since this is so good. Spread one side of slices with mayonnaise. Put on ungreased cookie sheet. Sprinkle lavishly with grated Parmesan cheese on top of mayonnaise side. Brown carefully in 400 F. oven until crisp.

Sesame-Soy Dressing for Shrimp Salad

Combine ¼ cup salad oil with 2 T. each vinegar, sherry and lemon juice. Add 2 t., each, soy sauce and toasted sesame seeds. Put into jar with tight cover. Makes ¾ cup. Chill and shake vigorously over cold cleaned fresh shrimp or best large canned shrimp with thinly sliced red onion rings and canned mandarin orange segments on bed of butter lettuce. This answers the purpose of both salad and dessert. But you can easily augment this simply delicious supper with a variety of cookies served in the living room with coffee and liquors.

The above are Jerry's exclusives for Party Plans. We follow with some "economics" which we've practiced during our travels at home and overseas.

Meat and Beer Loaf

Two lbs. groundchuck; 1

lb. bulk pork sausage; 1 egg;

Meat and Beer Loaf

Two lbs. ground chuck; 1 lb. bulk pork sausage; 1 egg; 1 small onion, chopped; ½ cup dry bread crumbs; 1 apple, cored and chopped (unpeeled); 1 cup beer; 1 cup canned applesauce; seasoned salt and pepper; extra applesauce.

Mix meat, with rest of ingredients. Add a good shake of seasoned salt and pepper. The lemon-flavored kind is especially enhancing.

Blend with hands and shape into a loaf pan. Bake at 350 F. for 30 min. Spread applesauce over top and continue baking for 30 more min. Cool slightly and cut into slices. Serve with additional hot applesauce. Makes 6 flavorful servings. The combination is quite different but still easy and inexpensive. Good the next day, so perhaps you had better make two loaves.

Daddy's Delight

One onion, chopped; 1 lb. ground chuck; 1 can tomato soup; butter or margarine; 1 large head cabbage; salt and pepper; catsup.

Saute onion in a little butter or margarine. Fresh bacon fat or salad oil will also do but be sparing. Remember this is a time for semi-fasting after and before

Dec. 11, 1969

(again) more feasting. Add lightly browned meat with ½ t. salt, dash of pepper.

Spread into 2 qt. baking dish half of the coarsely grated cabbage. Cover with meat mixture. Top with rest of uncooked cabbage. Over the top pour the condensed cream of tomato soup and a big dash of catsup.

Bake covered for 1 hour in 350 F. oven. Amount of serving will depend who eats most, daddy, the children or mother. This is known as standard before-pay-day-blues... when charging at military commissaries was dispensed with.

Another way to entertain on a shoestring is this old Army dish your Party Plans columnist always served when waiting for that new pay day.

It just happened to be her husband and son's specialty while the distaff member turned to cottage cheese and pineapple... the usual diet-try-it-again.

Army Corned Beef Hash

One large G.I. can corned beef hash; 1 clove garlic, mashed; 1 t. chili powder; salt and pepper; 1 onion, chopped; ½ green pepper (seeds and membrane removed), chopped; oil; bananas, lemon juice, brown sugar, grated nutmeg.

Lightly brown canned hash in a large heavy cast iron skillet. In separate frying pan do the same with garlic, onion and green pepper. Mix into hash with fork. Season with chili, salt, pepper to taste. Mold and put into baking dish. Cook at 350 F. for 30 min. In the meanwhile peel and slice 3 under-ripe bananas (not hard or green) lengthwise. Sprinkle with lemon or lime juice to keep from darkening. Drain and put banana slices on top of hash, add a sprinkling of brown sugar and grated nutmeg over all. Bake until bananas are tender.

As crab are in season and quite reasonable at Monterey's Old Fisherman's Wharf right now, let's conclude with

Carmel Crab Casserole

Three pkgs. broad egg noodles, cooked according to pkg. directions. Drain. Three lbs. cooked crab. (You'll have to pick out the meat yourself, but they'll crack the freshly steamed crabs for you.) Carmel Valley fresh mushrooms, as many as you can afford. Sherry, canned pimiento, basil, paprika, oregano, salt and pepper, butter. Serves many.

Saute the sliced fresh mushrooms in butter; add to crab meat (minus shell and gistle) with sherry, sliced pimiento and seasonings into baking dish. Make a layer of the noodles; top with the rest of ingredients and layer until everything is used, with the noodles last. Bake at 325 F. until the top is

Art, Artists and Galleries

Sea Palms, Monterey Coast, 1969. Photograph by Wynn Bullock of Monterey.

Friends of Photography new Portfolio...lovely wedding of photography, printing

From Carmel, an area steeped in artistic tradition, comes another outstanding example of what constitutes a true artistic endeavor.

Called "The Persistence of Beauty, Portfolio I," is a publication of the Friends of Photography, whose board of trustees and advisory committee is a true list of Who's Who in American photography.

This breathtaking group of photographs is certainly the highest expression of the art of the photographer and typographer.

The portfolio consists of examples of the work of Paul Strand, Ansel Adams, Imogen Cunningham, Brett Weston, Minor White, Harry Callahan, Aaron Siskind, W. Eugene Smith, Bill Brandt, Henri Cartier-Bresson, Wynn Bullock and Frederick Sommer.

The photographs are beautifully printed on individual sheets of heavy, coated paper, 11½ by 14½ inches, and contained in an embossed jacket.

Nancy Newhall has written a sensitive and thoroughly appropriate introduction to the portfolio, which will be on sale at galleries and book stores throughout the United States.

A second portfolio is planned by the Carmel-based Friends of Photography, this one featuring the works of younger, contemporary photographers.

Annual carols begin Dec. 15

The strains of Christmas melodies will be heard once again in Devendorf Park when the annual Christmas caroling begins on Dec. 15.

The caroling is sponsored by the Carmel and Carmel Valley Ecumenical Youth Group. Adults as well as youth will be participating

Upper Room now open

A new gallery is open in Carmel — a very small but significant one — rather unusual these days — dedicated entirely to art with a spiritual idea or religious purpose.

It is located up the vine-covered, spanish-tiled stairway in the old El Paseo Building, on the northeast corner of Dolores and Seventh.

Owner and operated by Charles and Joan Willingham, it is open daily, except Sunday and Monday, 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The first one-man show is by well-known Carmel artist, BARBARA WEST, and features two of her very special Christmas scenes. During the coming months religious works of other local artists will be exhibited.

in the event which will take place from 7 to 7:30 p.m. each evening.

Following the caroling on the closing night, Dec. 23, there will be a cider and donut party for all the participants at the Carmel Presbyterian Church on the corner of Junipero and Ocean.

The schedule for the caroling is as follows:

Dec. 15 — All Churches and Organizations and the Middle School Band.

Dec. 16 — All Saints Episcopal Church.

Dec. 17 — Carmel Presbyterian Church.

Dec. 18 — Boy Scout Troop No. 32 and the Committee of Responsibility.

Dec. 19 — Middle School Foreign Language Department.

Donald Putnam exhibiting 49 pieces at Perry House

"Donald Putnam aspires to become one of the top painters in the United States" — article in Jan. 1968 American Artist Magazine by Frederick Whitaker, N.A.

"To interpret life, with words or paint, one must first have lived. Putman, who has made his own way since age eighteen, can fend for himself anywhere and has never hesitated to essay any venture, confident that he could succeed. He is able to paint the essence of what he has seen — seen from the viewpoint of a philosopher, an artist, and a lover of humanity."

As might be expected, in view of his experiences, Putman's painting subjects cover a wide range: circus folk, the old West, the race track, Indians, reporter of today and the NOW generation.

He has just completed what he considers to be an entirely new field: a series of paintings showing the diversionary side of life in the Western mining and cow towns of the late nineteenth century — bar-rooms, dance hall incidentals, painted ladies and the like. What Toulouse-Lautrec did for the Bordello's of France, he, will do for the early "Bordellos" of the West.... we have romanticized our early Western man but neglected our early Western woman" — Putt intends to give her her due.

Most exciting are his latest experiment in the division of color, or color combinations; using intense tints of yellow, orange, pink and warm violet. This departure was suggested to Putman by the fact that many of the new synthetic colors, pigments or lakes, are extremely brilliant in hue — a quality which earlier painters never knew.

Says Putman, "I want to paint my kind of world. That is what I have done, and my styles and techniques have changed as my mental outlook has developed."

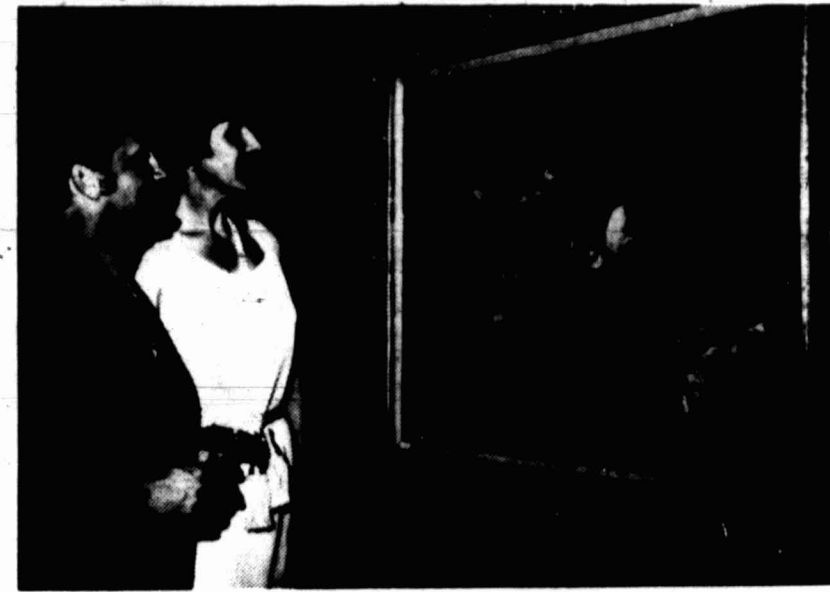

"I call Putt my people painter... he brings the Perry House Gallery to life in a most vital and exciting manner. I have at least three painters in one man here", states Perry House director Patricia Bowen.

Truly a beautiful person whose message has found its medium.

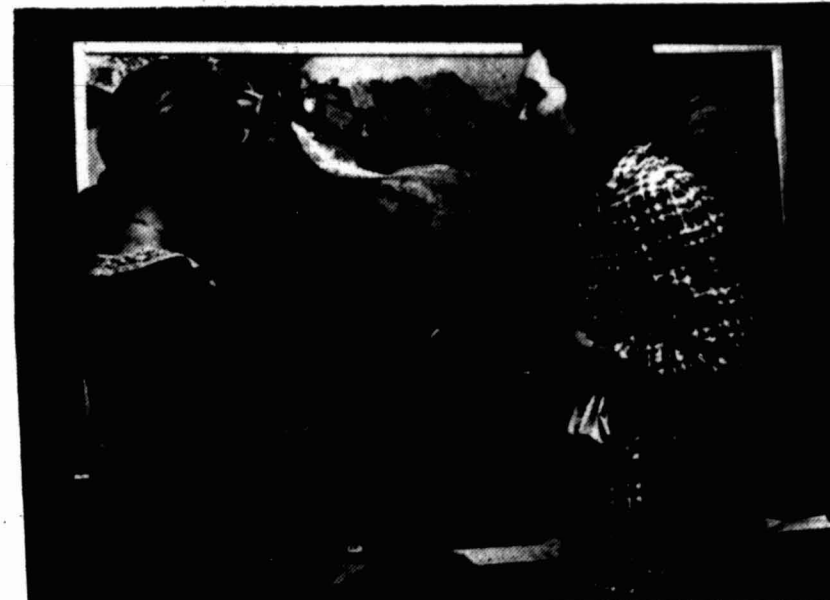

A Californian, Putman attended Fresno State College and is a graduate of Art Center College of Design, in Los Angeles where he is now a painting instructor.

OPENING DAY — Artist Donald Putman and Mrs. Craig Bowen check "The Doll House," one of 49 paintings by Putman on exhibit at The Perry House in Monterey. Mrs. Bowen is the director of the gallery, and Putman's work will be on display through December.

ACQUISITION — Mrs. Donald Putman, left, reluctantly releases a painting by her artist-husband that has just been purchased by Mrs. Webster W. Downer for her collection. The painting, titled "The Matador," was one of 49 on exhibit at The Perry House in Monterey. The show opened Sunday and will run through December.

MOONLIGHT MELODY

Last night the moon was singing
Its voice was silver-toned and gay,
It flowed on a gleaming silver wing,
Or like a melody;
Its light distilled a subtle wine
That illumined every way,
Until the night, a dark-skinned maid, became
Half-sister to the day.

By Orian DePledge

Three Tiny Butterflies

Three tiny butterflies lost in space,
Black, blue and white-delicate lace;
Black wings searching through the night,
Blue wings hovering above the lawn
And the silvery ones embrace the light.

Three tiny butterflies lost in space,
Black, blue and silvery lace
In search of eternal light;
Black wings searching for the shadows,
Blue ones hovering above the meadows
And the radiant wings basking in delight.

Three lacy butterflies in search of life
Among the whispering flowers — all alive
Caressing the petals in search of love,
Waiting for the early dawn
Saluting the flowering lawn,
In search of life from above.

A Symphony in Color

Out of the night I emerge
Cloaked in your presence;
I discard the mist,
I split the fog, I climb the dew
At the stroke of the day dismissing the dawn;
Ears attuned to your silence
I am watching resurgence of color
Within your eyes.

By Cecile Wilson

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

America the beautiful I see you and I find
All roads lead to your valleys green
Your forests are rain chimed.
America the beautiful I travel and I see
The prairies roam and heaven's dome
Is just one dust blue sea.
America the beautiful I follow you and find
Your mountains rise to Paradise
Your sunrise sights the blind...
And your steel cities can't destroy
Your harvest rich and kind.
I spend summer hours sketching wildflowers
By wind shadows I'm beguiled
America Oh Mother Queen
I am your barefoot child.

Mary Ann Putman

THE CAGE

I shall never be able to enclose in a cage
the surging laughter of the wind,
The gentle smile of a child,
The rusty eyes of the forests
And the whimsical undulation of the waves.

I shall never be able to enclose in a cage
The rays of the sun and the gleaming stars at night;
The imprint of memories dwelling forever within our minds.

I want the winds to be free and free the rain drops,
Just as I want to be free from useless restraint;
And when I depart forever, what would I do
With cages suspended at my footsteps.

The Arts Coordinating Council receives Humanities treasury

The Arts Coordinating Council of Monterey County, at its regular December meeting on Wednesday, was presented a check for $507 comprising the entire treasury of the former Arts & Humanities Religious art show at NPS

The 7th Annual Religious Art Show sponsored by the Catholic Chapel Guild will be held in the ballroom of the Naval Postgraduate School from Jan. 19 through 31.

Awards for best works will be presented by jurors Leslie Emery, Ellwood Graham, and Gordon Newell.

Chairmen Mrs. J.F. Keenan and Mrs. H. E. Boone, announce that an exhibit by Father Jesus Maria Serra will be a feature of this year's contest.

A limit of two works per artist has been set. Entry forms and further information may be obtained by writing the:

High School students are especially encouraged to enter this show. This year a special award will be presented to the best high school entry.

Council which met and voted unanimously to end its activities and to turn their total assets over to the Coordinating Council.

The Arts & Humanities Council was formed some nine years ago with the purpose of promoting presentations — mainly musical — of arts events to the community and was supported for a time by a large membership.

Through the efforts of Elwood Wilson legal advisor for the Arts & Humanities and Leonard Klene, former president of the Arts Council, greatly aided by the further efforts of Fritz Wurmann of the Arts Council and Carl von Saltza, treasurer of the Arts & Humanities, through whose joint efforts the most recent members of the Board of Directors were located and the activities of the once popular and effective group were brought to a conclusion.

Since the Arts Coordinating Council, which was formed in 1966 by representatives of a number of arts organizations, has been carrying out many of the objectives of the Arts & Humanities Council, it is a logical and appreciative recipient of their assets.

LEGION OF MERIT — Lt. Col. Stewart S. Griffin Jr. of Carmel, (right) now retired, receives the Legion of Merit medal for his superlative service to CDCEC together with the congratulations of Colonel Boyd L. Branson, CDCEC's commanding officer. Griffin and his wife Carol have resided with their three young sons in Carmel at Via Mallorca and Carmel Valley Road during his tour of duty with CDCEC. In retirement, they will remain there with Griffin starting a new career as manager of the new Del Mesa Development.

Our Men In Service

Marine 2nd Lt. Enoch H. Shoultz, 24, son of Mrs. Mary A. Morrison, Route 1, Carmel, has completed a 16-week helicopter pilot course at the Army Primary Helicopter School, Ft. Wolters, Tex.

During the course, he was trained to fly helicopters and learned to use them in tactical maneuvers.

He will now attend advanced flight training school at Hunter Army Airfield, Ga.

Army First Lieutenant Timothy V. Fry, 22, son of Mrs. Marie V. Fry, Carmel, has been assigned to the 222nd Combat Aviation Battalion in Vietnam.

His father Alfred C. Fry, lives in Pebble Beach and his wife, Diana, lives at 822 Hawthorne St., Monterey

In the water, penguins are believed to reach a speed of 30 miles an hour.

RE-UP — The oath of enlistment was taken by SFC Jose Garcia local U.S. Army recruiter in ceremonies held recently, at the U.S. Army recruiting office in Monterey. Administering the oath was Maj. Robert A. Becker, Alameda recruiting main station Executive Officer. Maj. Becker and SFC Garcia served in Vietnam together as members of the United States Infantry Division.

NEW COMMISSION — Ensign P.G. Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Hunter of Carmel, receives his commission as an ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve during ceremonies at his completion of the Aviation Officer Course at Pensacola, Fla. Congratulating the new ensign is Captain J. H. Harvey, while Air Force Colonel John S. Olsen, a friend of the family looks on.

OLD FRATERNITY HANDSHAKE? — Doubly so! It's the handclasp of two real brothers happy to find themselves both assigned to Fort Ord; but they're also brothers in the military fraternity, meeting on a "campus" both have trod. Lt. Timothy Terriere at right and his younger brother Private James Terriere are standing before a sign that names the institution where both were "educated" — Fort Ord's 1st Brigade. Private Terriere is taking his basic training there now, just as Lt. Terriere did in early 1967. Lt. Terriere is now assigned as Assistant Maintenance Officer to the Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff G-4 of the Army Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command at Fort Ord; and Private Terriere is with Company A, 4th Battalion, 1st Infantry Brigade of Ord. Lt. Terriere is living in Carmel at Camino del Monte; Private Terriere is living of course, in barracks on Post.

Air Medal to Maj. Davey

U.S. Air Force Major Thomas J. Davey, son of Mrs. Sarah E. Davey, 1055 Indian Village Road, Pebble Beach, Calif., has received the Air Medal at Takhli

Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. Major Davey, an F-105 Thunderchief fighter-bomber pilot at Takhli, was decorated for his outstanding airmanship and courage on successful and important missions completed under hazardous conditions. He is assigned to the 333rd Tactical Fighter Squadron, a unit of the Pacific Air Forces, headquarters for air operations in Southeast Asia, the Far East and Pacific area.

Colonel assigned

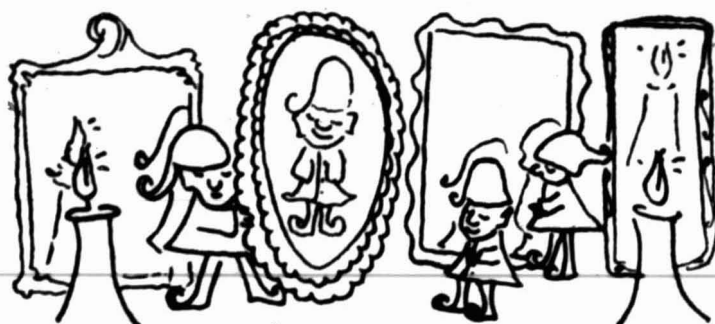

Army Colonel John E. Culin, son of Mrs. Ella G. S. Culin, Pebble Beach, Calif., was assigned Oct. 14 to the 4th Infantry Division in Vietnam, as commanding officer of the division's Support Command.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions." This passage from Psalms is included in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled "God the Preserver of Man" to be read Sunday.

One of the passages to be read from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy is: "The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs to the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering."

Services, open to all, are held at First Church of Christ Scientist, 6th and Monte Verde, Carmel and begin at 11:00 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Christian Science Radio Program

"Communication That Heals", the title of next Sunday's program in the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You" will be discussed in a broadcast over radio stations KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

By Raymond MacDonald

Q. Do students 18-22 who receive Social Security benefits have to make any reports to the Social Security Administration?

A. Yes, they must report if any of the following occur: 1. They drop out of school, transfer to another school, or reduce their attendance to less than full-time. 2. They marry. 3. They are adopted. 4. They earn or expect to earn $1,680 or more in the calendar year and last if they get payment by an employer for attending school.

Q. My wife and I are both 35 and are both working.

'Caretaker' to MPC

"The Caretaker," a film adapted from the "fascinating, funny, eerie" play by Harold Pinter, will be screened Saturday, Dec. 13, at 8 p.m. in the Monterey Peninsula College music hall.

Directed in Great Britain by Clive Donner in 1963, "The Caretaker" transposes what has become known as "the Pinter Method" from the stage to the screen. The three actors from the original production - Robert Shaw, Alan Bates and Donald Pleasence - are, according to the New Republic critic Stanley Kauffman, "even better in the film."

When we retire, she can only get benefits as my wife, so what good does it do for her to pay Social Security contributions?

A. First, if she works long enough to be insured, she will be eligible for a benefit on her own record. If she retired at 62, she would be able to collect her benefits, even if you continued to work. Second, chances are that the benefit used on her own earnings will be higher than the benefit that would be payable to her as a dependent wife. Third, her work under Social Security gives her disability protection if she should become disabled before 65. Fourth, if you have children, they would be eligible to receive survivors benefits at her death, based on her work under Social Security. Last, in the event of her death, you would be entitled to a lump-sum death payment even if you had no children.

Poor visibility winter safety factor says AAA

Winter months bring pedestrian death rates to the peak of their scales because of two factors - fatigue and poorer visibility, says the California State Automobile Association.

The AAA motoring organization urged motorists and pedestrians to take it easy in bad weather, particularly during the holiday season when more pedestrians and motorists will be out during darkness.

Pedestrians are reminded to carry packages and umbrellas in a way which does not obscure their vision. And, persons whose work takes them out at night should wear reflectorized apparel or markings to make them highly visible at night.

As part of AAA's nationwide school traffic safety education program, this poster is being distributed to all parts of the country.

'CARE' package is perfect gift for people who have nothing but 'CARE' package

"Giving the right Christmas gift is not easy. The selection, wrapping, and mailing of gifts can consume hours and shorten Moore returns from workshop

Douglas L. Moore has just returned from a marketing techniques workshop for field managerial and supervisory personnel of the John Hancock Mutual Life Co. at the firm's home office. Only the top 8% of the Hancock's nation-wide field supervisory personnel qualify for this recognition annually.

Moore is a supervisor with the John M. Lyon, John Hancock general agency located in Monterey.

Moore attended Monterey Peninsula College and joined Hancock in 1966. He is currently 1st vice president of the Monterey Life Underwriters Assoc.

temper. If you would like to avoid these problems, yet still give meaningful appropriate, and unique gifts, CARE's Holiday Gift Plan is your answer," Edward F. Fisher reminds local residents. Fisher, associated with the Bank of California in Monterey, is Volunteer CARE Chairman for the Salinas-Monterey area.

"Nothing could be simpler. You send a check to CARE and ask that packages be sent to needy families overseas, not in your name, but in the name of the people on your gift list. Enclose the names and addresses of those you wish to remember in this manner and CARE, in turn, will send attractive gift announcement cards back to you for forwarding to your friends with your signature. The minimum contribution per name is $1 and is tax deductible," Fisher explained.

In this way you stretch the hand of friendship around the world, as well as honoring those difficult-to-buy-for people on your Christmas list with a thoughtful and humanitarian gift. It's a two-fold present which truly reflects the spirit of Christmas.

Contributions to the Holiday Gift Plan may be sent to CARE, Inc., 444 Market Street, San Francisco, 94111.

'La Cumbre Sonada'

by Arthur Porter

"La Cumbre Sonada" is an intriguing name for an exclusive mountaintop guesthouse above Taxco in Mexico, particularly when translated into English as "Dream Summit" or even "Summit of Dreams."

Some years ago I heard about it and declared I must get there somehow, sometime.

Recently, my wife and I did accomplish the so-easy journey, flying from Los Angeles to Mexico City, where we found a car and driver sent by the owner, Mrs. Claire Bonebakker, awaiting us at the airport.

A beautiful drive of about 2½ hours to the ancient city of Taxco, and then up the mountainside to "La Cumbre Sonada."

We must confess to some misgivings as the 17th century cobbled streets of Taxco gave way to a dirt road which looked as if it would peter out at any moment, that it seemed unlikely there could possibly be anything really worthwhile at the top!

But, picture to yourselves a large white South of France type villa set in acres of terraced gardens full of flowers, a breathtaking view of the Sierra Madre mountains range upon range, with "Popo" — the snow-capped volcano, Popocatepetl, as a neighbor.

And then our hostess, Claire Bonebakker, known everywhere as "Clarita," a charming outgoing person, welcoming us so warmly.

Down the flagstone pathways there are two other buildings nestling among trees and flowers, and into one of them a procession of smiling Mexican servants carried our bags, lit a fire in the huge stone fireplace and called us later to enjoy a really gourmet meal at an exquisitely set table graced with orchids from the gardens, handwoven linens, lovely pottery service plates.

In the morning, after an incredible sunrise, breakfast was served on our own patio — what papaya!

After lazing in the sun we swam in the pool fed by mountain streams. Amid this heavenly quiet we felt and were treated like honored guests in a perfect private estate.

Claire Bonebakker is Dutch, born in Indonesia, and an artist of note.

Perhaps the only individual who fell in love with a mountain!

She dreamed a dream and with 25 Mexican workmen and no architectural training built "La Cumbre Sonada" and made it come true. Where they had been almost bare mountaintop, her "Summit of Dreams" came into being, which she

Anita Brant in special TV Christmas show Dec. 21

Anita Bryant will be the guest star for the 1969 Oral Roberts television special "Contact."

The program will be aired by KSBW, Channel 8 in Salinas at 10 p.m., Sunday, Snowmobile tags

Snowmobile owners must attach a $5.00 identification plate, obtainable from the Department of Motor Vehicles, to each such vehicle before it is used this winter.

DMV director Verne Orr said a law which took effect November 10, 1969, requires snowmobiles to carry this identification. He advised each snowmobile owner to bring papers to the nearest DMV office showing that he has bought or is buying the vehicle. An application form will be filled out and sent to Sacramento.

From Sacramento the applicant will receive in the mail on 5/8 inch metal plate with gold serial numbers on a blue background. It should be mounted in plain view on the rear of the vehicle.

Once attached the plate requires no annual renewal. But if the snowmobile changes hands, the new owner must re-register the vehicle.

Dec. 21.

Described as "the greatest" by America's king of comedy Bob Hope, Anita captures the spirit of Christmas and wraps it in a melodic package of traditional carols including: Away in a Manger, Silent Night, and Oh Holy Night.

Poised and sincere, Anita becomes a musical storyteller who charms young and old alike creating a new spirit of Christmas apart from the commercialized and akin to the holy. Like a bit of serendipity, Anita Bryant in her appearance on the Rev. Roberts Christmas Special makes Christmas what it should be — a happy and thoughtful experience.

During the course of the show, Anita and husband Bob Green discuss the events that have played significant roles in their lives — Bob's turning toward Christianity, and Anita's struggle between life and death during the premature birth of twins, Billie and Barbara.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Premier

Last year we ordered some new Christmas books, attempting to have them in the library before Christmas, and they arrive a few weeks after the big event. So this Christmas, these are really like new books. Two of them are as follows:

Renfro's Christmas, by Robert Burch, is a warm story about a normal eight-year-old boy named Renfro.

It was certainly natural for him to be interested in what he would be getting for Christmas, but when he deliberately bought a better pocketknife for himself than the wooden-handled one he chose for his brother, Renfro felt a little guilty.

He didn't like being told by his older sister that he was "showing a selfish streak," especially when he suspected it might be true. On Christmas day he shared his Yo-yo with Nutty, who had no presents, and he let two little girls use his lasso as a skipping rope, but only for a short time.

But his shining hour came when a retarded boy looked at Renfro's new pocket watch and showed some interest in it, instead of his usually blank stare.

Impulsively, Renfro gave it to the boy, knowing that he had done the right thing and had really given himself the best gift he's ever had. It is told with humor and warmth, and leaves the reader with a good feeling.

The Christmas Book is compiled by James Reeves and is an anthology of holiday prose and poetry which includes selections from the Medieval through the modern period. "The Night Before Christmas," "I Saw Three Ships," "The Wassail Bowl," "The Twelve Days of Christmas" are among some of the traditional pieces in this collection. Other delights are "Christmas Underground," by Kenneth Grahame; "The Mouse That Didn't Believe in Santa Claus," by Eugene Field; and Dylan Thomas's "Memories of Christmas."

The Christmas books are shelved on top of the card catalog in the Children's Room and they are going fast. How The Grinch Stole Christmas by Dr. Seuss is a perennial favorite, and we have two new copies this year. (both are circulating at this moment, but keep trying.)

Santa Mouse, by Michael Brown, is new to us this year and it is also one which circulates constantly, even during the off-Christmas season. The large, colorful drawings and pleasant story is a joy to the youngest readers.

Community church

The woman's Association of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula is holding its annual Christmas Tea on Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 2 p.m. at the church located on Carmel Valley Road, one mile east of Highway One.

The vocal and instrumental group of the Tularcitos Elementary School will present "Jingle Bells Review" under the direction of John Farr.

Mrs. Everett Heisinger will give a Christmas reading entitled, "The Small One."

All members and friends of the church are cordially invited.

One-tenth of the Arctic Ocean is open water the year around.

DMV renewals

Vehicle owners who renew their 1970 registrations will get a one-by-two inch orange sticker - not a new blue and gold license plate, Department of Motor Vehicles Director James W. Chapman has emphasized.

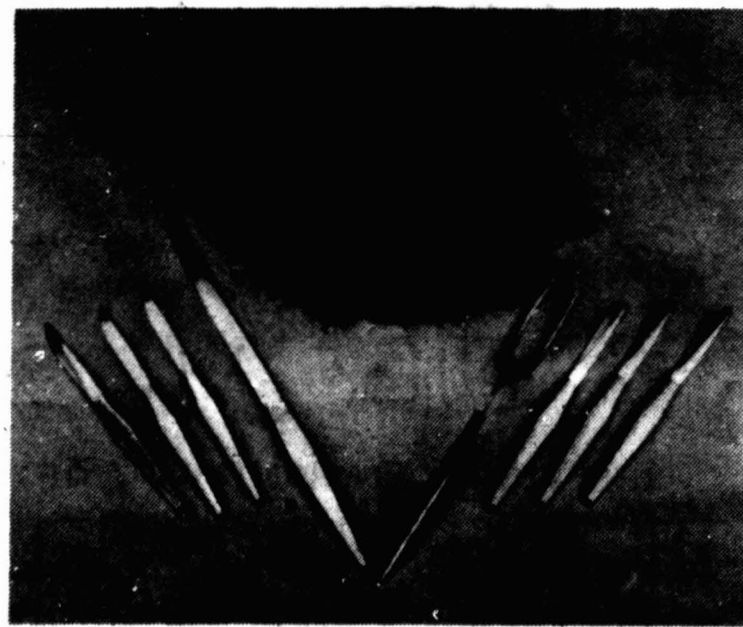

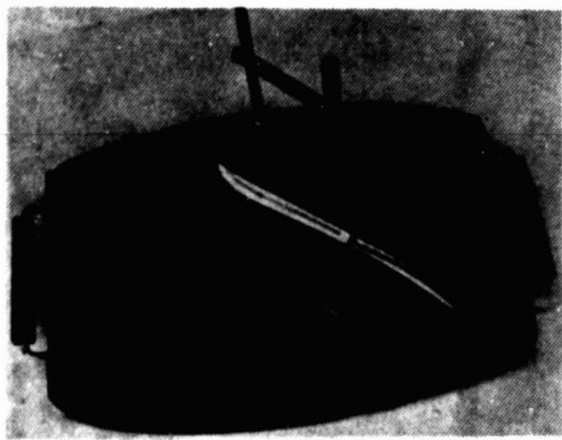

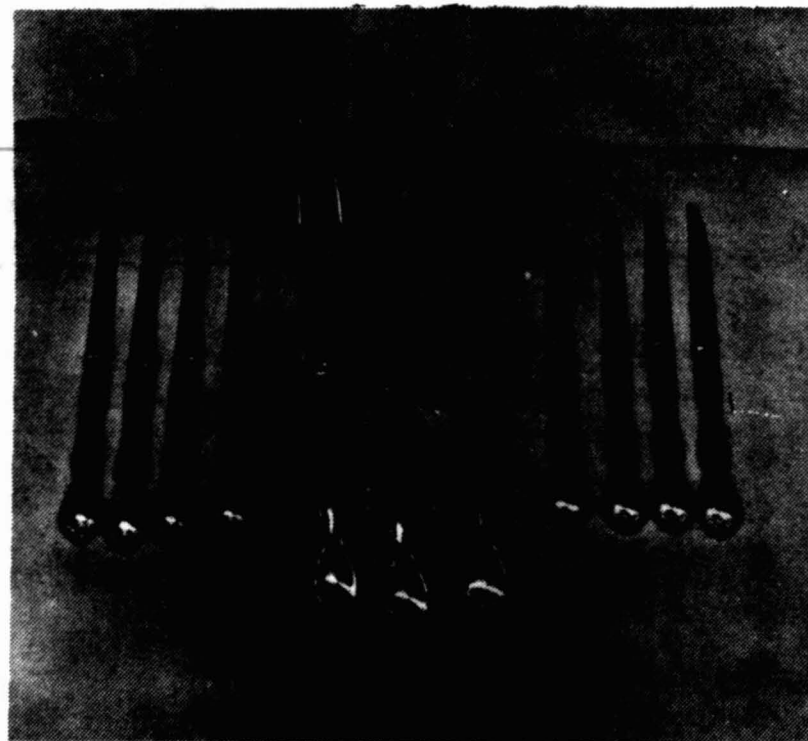

He said many people have the erroneous impression that the department is making a statewide distribution of new license plates, such as occurred in 1956 and 1963.

"The transition from the Yellow-on-black to the gold-on-blue plates is geared to the rate of replacement of old cars by new and out-of-state cars," he explained. "Seven years or longer may pass before the great bulk of vehicles carry blue plates."

Persons willing to exchange their present license plates for the new blue ones for a fee of $3 may do so beginning Mar. 1, 1970.

"That date," said Chapman, "will put the present registration renewal season behind us, and we can then begin processing large numbers of license plate changes without swamping out staff."

LOCATED AT MOUTH OF

Diablo Valley next for MPC, record now even

By Marc Hinchey

Diablo Valley College will give Monterey Peninsula College its toughest test of the young basketball season Saturday night at the MPC Gymnasium.

The Lobos will be up against a sizable Viking squad that boasts four returning lettermen. Heading the Diablo Valley attack are 6-3 forward Tom Nunnally and 6-1 guard Russ Crowder.

MPC evened its record last week with back to back victories over Canada College and the San Francisco State junior varsity. The Lobos lost their first two contests of the year to Skyline and Solano, and were scheduled to meet Skyline again this week as well as the Hayward State frosh.

Forward Buz McClay tanked 21 points last Tuesday night, to lead Monterey to its first win — a 54-47 triumph over Canada. Tied at the half with the visitors, the Lobos took charge in the second half a built up margins of as much as 9 points at various stages of the game. Two late baskets by freshman Jerry Brown cinched the tilt for MPC after Canada attempted a comeback.

On Saturday night, the Wolfpack hosted the San Francisco State JV squad and pounded the Gators 75-53. Monterey's defense completely baffled SFS; except for Gator forward O'dwyer Haskins, that is. Haskins netted 20 points to capture game scoring honors.

All 15 players on the MPC roster saw action in the game and 12 of them scored. Guard Dave Stewart (12), forwards Buz McClay and Dan Hoffman (10 apiece) and center Crosby Anderson (9) led the way. Anderson played especially well, grabbing some key rebounds in addition to his point contributions.

Game time for Saturday night's clash with Diablo Valley is 8 p.m.

Oliver's Observations

By Carl D. Oliver

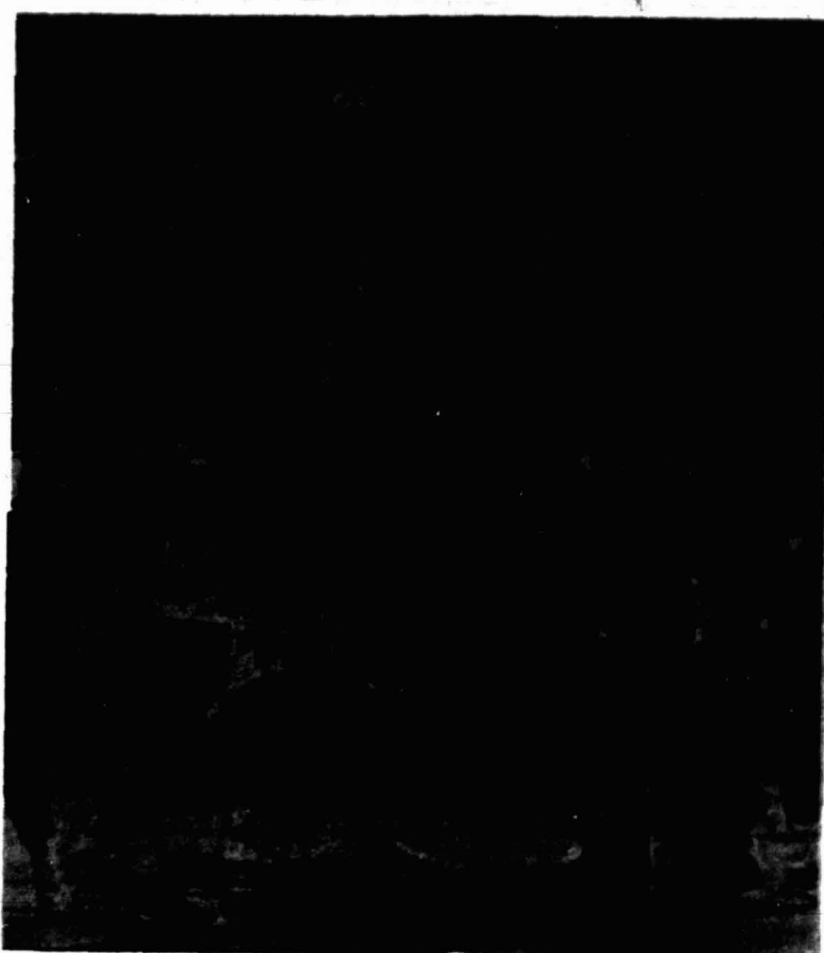

I'M CONVINCED the value of the dollar will never sink as low as some people will stoop to get it. . . . A man hardly ever makes the same mistake twice — usually it's three times or more. . . . Mini-poem of the week: Surly to bed and surly to rise — give matrimony a lot of black eyes!

All eyes turn to H & H Supply when they're searching for building supplies. Why? Because here is where you'll find everything in building materials, paneling, hardware and everything for the home. In fact you can even do-it-yourself. It's actually cheaper and more fun. They'll show you how here, willingly and cheerfully, for H & H is here to help. All prices are "F.O.B. yard." Here you'll find the largest selection of paneling on the Peninsula — over 2,000 panels in stock; from only $3.95 up. Use your BankAmericard. Open 8 A.M. till noon and 1 P.M. to 5 P.M. weekdays, 8 A.M. till 2 P.M. on Saturdays. Bill of Rights

A good many people have consigned the Bill of Rights to the same limbo that harbors high button shoes and carriage whips, or have rewritten it to suit their own devices.

Quite willing to accept the accolade of being uptight, Establishment squares we commend Monday, December 15 — the Bill's 178th anniversary — as a fitting time to do a little serious thinking about this nation of ours and what its Constitution truly has meant, and means, to us and to all men who love freedom and equate it with responsibility.

Letter To The Editor

To the Pine Cone Editor:
My Lai in perspective
In my book any perspective should properly start from the beginning.

Such beginning starts with our sacred Declaration of Independence, instituting a new political concept in the history of the world. In effect, that individual "Was endowed by his Creator," not society, not government, but God's creature man.

Among many revolutionary principles that took form under this concept was that of the accused is innocent until proven guilty by due process.

This American principle of justice is the primary attitude and method of every duly constituted court in the land, and sacred to every true American.

Sadly, we always have with us untrue Americans who in their ignorant or sometimes sordid conscience ignore the enlightened court principles and individually constitute themselves prosecutor, judge and jury, and proclaim the subject of their dislike as guilty on questionable, insufficient evidence or no evidence at all.

Some of these indecent harpies, to satisfy their futurelike propensities, would convict every thing-in-association, of viciousness in the My Lai case, the whole American manned Army, giving its life and sacred honor to preserve for humanity the grandest political principles ever attained by a social order in world history — those of our America.

All wars produce provocations of irresistible retaliatory effect, and ferocious incidents occur that civilized society may not condone.

When such incidents do occur they must be dealt with by measures strong and firm enough to leave no doubt of the Nation's abhorrence of them.

That such is the American way could be no better attested than that of an Editorial in the Dec. 3rd British Columbia newspaper. 'The Province' which said in part: "But amid the general horror over what took place at a tiny South Vietnam Village more than a year-and-a-half-ago, there is no redeeming circumstance... But the United States has not side stepped its responsibility. It is doing what it can to establish responsibility for the massacre, to punish those involved and to set an example for its fighting men to follow. How many other great powers in history have so embarrassed themselves in the midst of a war? How many would do so now? The United States has taken a great step forward in another field beside lunar exploration." So says an objective neighbor. We should be proud.

To round out our perspective we should remember that in the beginning we were drawn into this war because the communist principle of all human association based on the principle of "Might makes Right" was at work, as it always must be, to destroy the infiltration of the Christian principle of "Right makes Right" in southeast Asia, and that it was exercising that principle on a scale of atrocity comparable to its own standards of Katyn and Lidice, too horrific for true Americans to countenance.

May good Americans ever be grateful to, and for, their protection. Good American Soldiers — past and present — as they have fought for our freedom.

Consumer Power

By Yvonne Earnst

When shopping for Christmas toys for the children our gift lists, it is very easy to be so carried away by the enthusiastic sales personnel and the piped-in choruses of "Jingle Bells" that we buy whatever is offered—often without seriously considering what the toy will mean to the child.

Las week, we discussed what we, as consumers, can do to improve the quality of toys on the market. If you missed the column, perhaps you would like to pick up that issue at the Pine Cone office.

The most obvious, and quite powerful, action we can take is to swing our buying power to toys that meet high standards. Then, we can follow that up with a New Year's resolution to write letters to toy manufacturers and local stores expressing our feelings on gimmick-ridden, poorly constructed toys.

Keep all receipts, and see that toys that break down unaccountably, not from mistreatment, are returned to the store or the manufacturer with a written complaint requesting repair, replacement or a refund. And don't be embarrassed to do so.

I suggested a mail order catalog (Creative Playthings, Princeton, N.J. 98540) last week, and then discovered that a store right here in Carmel, Thinker Toys, carries about 200 items from the Creative Playthings line. You will find their ad right here in the Pine Cone.

Let's talk now, about some Christmas (or any time of year) gift buying ideas.

Shall we start with dolls? I'm partial to them myself, and really have to hold back to keep from buying dolls for my daughters that would really only please me. We have found a happy choice, though, with the dolls by Sasha Morgenthau, which are carried by Creative Playthings and Thinker Toys in Carmel.

Sasha tells a story about a child who was belittled by her friend because her Sasha doll did not "talk." To this the child replied, "Oh, yes, she does. But she just talks to me."

Sasha dolls wear a wistful expression that communicates perfectly to a child. Here is a doll that could be happy with her new playmate, sad with her, mad with her — could laugh with her, comfort her, console her.

So, consider buying a doll that does nothing but "love back." For any child under six, or maybe even older, a soft, cuddly doll is the first requirement. Creative Playthings' sheepskin

What's In A Name?

"GERANIUM GATE"

Actually, there are 3 gates - the weathered rustic double entry on Scenic Drive, a beautiful wrought iron gate leading to the walled front courtyard, and an interesting gate of wide painted boards to the park-like bar-be-que area. Entrance gates are flanked by wind-swept cypress, the iron gate touches a fabulous rose each time its opened, and the wonderful oak trees in the rear yard are your view over the garden gate. Geranium and other very Carmelish flowers set off the Mediterranean home with its separate guest apartment. The price is $89,500.

"SEA BIRD"

Perched on the high point of its seaside site, our Bird seems poised to fly across the beautiful little bay to Bird Rock on Pt. Lobos, its near neighbor. Only a year or so old, the architecture was designed to underscore this feeling and has lots of glass, yet the feeling is not of a "contemporary" styling. Expensive, and worth it. The price is $179,000.

"CASA DEL PUENTE"

What can one say about the perfect Carmel home? You see, it has and is everything. The best ocean front site in the Highlands, selected over 40 years ago when you had a choice. The old Spanish architecture, recently and lovingly remodeled and expanded. Meticulously maintained. Heated swimming pool. Beautiful landscaping. And, of course, "El Puente" - the bridge whose fascinating arched spans are lighted at night (so is the equally fascinating surf) to permit a long view up one of the loveliest canyons in the area. The price is $350,000.

"LA VENTANA"

Ventana means window, of course, and this traditional home is truly a window on the sea. But did you also know that the Spanish word can mean either of the sense of hearing and seeing as well? This is the property for both - see and hear and participate in the natural setting of two acres overlooking the sea in Carmel Highlands. The low $79,500 price will permit refurbishing to your own tastes.

"CASA PACIFICA"

The Pacific Ocean, seen in the distance from six miles high up in the Palo Colorado Canyon. A pacific setting for a timeless A-frame built of native stone and timbers in six acres of redwood forest with a paved county road right to the driveway. Follow the advice in that most delightful of musicals, The Fantasticks and "hide away in shadows from the tyranny of time" to write your novel or just love life. Price $59,500.

"ZELLA'S GROCERY"

Have you always wanted to grow your own vegetables in a sunny little garden and live in a rustic house on the banks of a year-round stream in a redwood and fern canyon about 14 miles down Coast from Carmel and be able to sell off a site or two to help pay for this bucolic bliss? Then Zella's Grocery is for you. (Zella's GROCERY? You'll have to ask Hank about that name.) Price $42,500.
